Presents:

A Connecticut Road Master Program Elective Workshop

OSHA 10-Hour Roadway Construction Training

October 28-29, 2008 in Westport, CT

This is a 2-Day Course held from 8:30 am—3:00 pm each day

This training program has been developed for the transportation construction industry and is focused on the problems and hazards faced by roadway construction workers. Visual content, case studies and participant activities are geared toward situations that roadway construction supervisors and workers are likely to encounter in their day-to-day activities. The program will provide basic and comprehensive worker safety and health training that meets the requirements set forth by the OSHA Training Institute for accreditation as an OSHA 10-Hour Construction Outreach Training Program. Each successful participant will be issued an OSHA 10-Hour Construction Outreach wallet card.

Topics:

- ◆ Introduction to OSHA
- ◆ Roadway Work Zones
- ◆ Personal Protective Equipment
- ◆ Mechanized Equipment
- ◆ Electrical Safety
- ◆ Excavations and Trenching
- ◆ Confined Spaces
- ◆ Fall Prevention
- ◆ Occupational Health and Environmental Controls

Upon Completion:

Attendees will have a better understanding of the highway construction activities that are responsible for the majority of work zone fatalities and injuries. Serious hazards that are common to all construction activities will also be covered. The ability to recognize, control and eliminate common construction hazards for preventing deaths, injuries & illnesses will be emphasized.

Instructor: Adam R. Drummond is the President of National Safety Services, LLC. He is responsible for the development and delivery of National Safety Services programs nationally, including environmental, health and safety training and has over 20 years experience in the safety training, consulting and products industry. Mr. Drummond has designed more than 75 individual training programs for safety and environmental applications.
