Change Management
Managing Self and Others During Change

A CT Transportation Leadership Program Elective

Your success depends on how effective your ability is to navigate yourself, your team and organization through change.

This workshop is designed for managers, supervisors and leaders who are charged with introducing departmental or organizational changes to their employees. This program will provide you with the tools and techniques to help successfully navigate through the murky and often turbulent waters of change.

Course Instructor
Jerri Mizrahi is the Learning and Organizational Development Manager at Boise State University providing coaching, counseling and organizational development and design services. Jerri has developed and facilitated multiple programs specializing in communication; strategic planning; organizational development; work group consultation and team-intervention. Jerri's personal mission is to partner with others to create organizational and personal transformation where individuals and organizations grow and break patterns that no longer serve their best interest.
